to prove to you—as one of the dwindling few in this community who are strangers to the Live Store—the multitudinous merits of our modern clothing service.

Whatever measure of success this store has won is due solely and only to the growing favor in which it is held by your fellow citizens. And we respectfully submit that the exalted position which their verdict accords us is a subject worthy your consideration.

What is it these men find here that they can find nowhere else?

What is it these men find here that clothes to choose from—that draws them here again and again for KUPPENHEIMER clothes at $18 to $35?

Being gifted with large bumps of patience and persistence, we wait for you to pay us a neighborly call and see.

STANLEY'S TALK

Second District Congressman Said He Made It "Too Damned Hot For Beckham To Stay With the L. & N."

Red Hot Democratic Billingsgate Mixed With Campaign Eloquence

Congressman Augustus Owensley Stanley, of Henderson, who is former Gov. J. C. W. Beckham's chief opponent for the Democratic Senatorial Primary nomination to be decided on Saturday August 1st, spoke here yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Court-house to a large gathering. There was much Democratic enthusiasm on tap and the clappers whooped it up for Stanley to beat the band.

Mr. Stanley's Mason County friends had the Sardis Band on hand to enliven the happy occasion, and all in all the Democrats beat the bushes to a frazzle to drum out a crowd.

When Governor Beckham visited Maysville last month in his speech he handed Stanley and his record with out gloves and what he said about the former Fleming County boy orator was more than a plenty. Therefore the erstwhile trust buster and plutocrat buster was smarting under the cuts from the Beckham lash and eager for the chance to strike back.

This he did yesterday afternoon. Congressman Stanley was introduced to the Mason County militant democracy by Hon. A. Gordon Sulser, chairman of the Mason County Democratic Executive Committee. Mr. Sulser being quiet fluent and happy in handling Stanley many compliments and promises and referring to the Henderson statesman as the next United States Senator.

Stanley began his speech by saying he came not to Mason County to secure his vote for he felt that Mason County's vote was his already. He referred to the fact that he spoke in nearly every school house in Mason County 20 years ago, and to the friendships that he then formed. In a glowing tribute to the Democratic party he placed it next to the churches. (Now what do you think of that?) He said he had served his district 12 years in Congress and never had he in that time asked a man to vote for him.

He said the ballot was a solemn trust, it makes you a sovereign, an unswayed king. The man who sells his ballot prefers personal gain to the public good. If it is a disgrace to receive money secretly for a ballot it is not more so when a man is a party to the transaction indirectly.

He spoke of Beckham as a politician Lazarus running at large to exploit his sore spots. He did not object to Beckham exposing his sores but he did object to the Republican mongrels licking them. He said the Republican press had already elected Beckham. He objected to any Republican sticking his nose in "this Democratic mess," because a Republican could give no good reason for entering a Democratic Primary.

He paid his respects to the Lexington Leader and Louisville Herald. In the same paragraph he spoke of Daniel G. Reed, the chief director of the steel trust, recalled the time a tin pail was a tin pail and not a cast piece of sheet iron, and he, Stanley, was the man who exposed the Tin Trust for which favor Mr. Reed bought the Louisville Herald and through it fights him, Stanley, and supports Mr. Beckham.

He said John D. Rockefeller and Thos. Fortune Ryan muzzled Sam Shackelford and now Mr. Shackelford supports Mr. Beckham. Then Richard Knott, August Belmont and the L. & N. R. R. came in for a few scented bouquets. He said Mr. Beckham left the employ of the L. & N. R. R. because he (Stanley) had made it too hot for him.

In closing he requested the people to consider not Stanley nor Beckham but to consider what they represented and then vote for what they represent.

He closed by paying a glowing tribute to President Wilson.

In a word Mr. Stanley's speech was a typical old-fashioned Democratic harangue of the coarsely eloquent style, florid and abusive, but catchy with that element of the party who worship the shill-banner of Southern sentiment and yell for the man who is grey and fearless on the hustings.

"JOY NIGHT"

Maysville's Third Redpath Chautauqua Ends—A Success from Every Viewpoint

We Now Have "the Chautauqua Spirit" and Cannot Do Without It

Well, our third annual "Chaw-taw-qu" is a thing of the past and Maysville can well say we could not have spent a more enjoyable or a more profitable week.

The weather for the entire week was ideal, not a drop of rain to mar the event, no wind, no storms and no disorder. At times it was hot under the tent, but from the opening last Wednesday until the close last night when Manager H. C. Heffner said the last ringing and cheering words of "fare well and good luck next year," Beechwood Park was the theater of one grand sweet song of social, educational, religious and musical awakening and interest.

The chautauqua system of summer education cannot help but be uplifting and beneficial to any community. Show me a community wedded to the chautauqua habit and I will show you a place much in advance of the town that opposes the chautauqua.

Contrast the chautauqua plan of teaching and influence with the suggestive movies, the monkey tango and other so-called up-to-date forms of modern amusement.

There is not the least suggestion of civil connected with the American Chautauqua. It is all elevating, practical, highly moral and instructive, and cannot fail to uplift the individual and therefore the town, the city and the community.

Maysville has now had three most successful chautauqua seasons.

Boosters are now hard at work selling tickets for next year's chautauqua and only 75 to 100 tickets remain unsold of the required 750 to clinch the event for 1915.

Will you not help?

It would be hard indeed to find such a varied and high-class series of fun and instruction as is furnished by these chautauquas for $2. Think of it.

A Resume of the Past Week's Program.

It is difficult in a column of type to enlarge upon the score of attractions making up the past week's program.

Every artist was a star and every number was of the most pleasing character, therefore we will merely remark that the vote seems to favor Dr. C. C. Mitchell, the Morning Lecturer, as being in the lead as a forceful and entertaining speaker.

Dr. C. C. Mitchell.

Dr. Mitchell is one of the men whom one can listen to more than once. He tells you the Truth so that the Truth can make you Free.

The Public Ledger announces that it will publish Dr. Mitchell's famous sermon, "Job, or the World's Ash Heap," tomorrow and Friday. It is a gem and you should read it and study it.

Then there were also many other stars—but one star different from another star.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley disappointed his audience's expectations simply because he did not tell them more about his great fight for Pure Food. But Dr. Wiley is a big man from every angle and we trust he may be with us next year.

Then Ferrullo's magnificent band in its Sunday concert was thought by many to have been the best feature of the big show.

The Ziegler-Howe orchestral club. "Mother" Lake. The Collegian Male Quartet. Mary Agnes Doyle.

Dr. Edward A. Steiner. The Kieckbush-Reuter Co. Dr. Ernest Wray O'Neal. The Ben Greet Players. The Oratorio Artists.

Hon. Clifford G. Roe. Miss Vivian Dittman. Dr. Nellis.

Musical Novelty Entertainers. The Floyds, Magicians. The Edwin R. Weeks Co.

And last but not least, Superintendent H. C. Heffner, with his handsome and pleasing personality, (but he's married and has a wife and four kids,) who handed out a dozen or two bouquets to Maysville and Maysvillians.

Mr. Heffner declared he was delighted with our little city, its people and Kentucky hospitality, and—the cooking "He is nice" and all liked him as a first class chautauqua ringmaster. He must come again.

OPINIONS ABOUT MITCHELL AND JOB.

A most excellent address was delivered at the mass meeting for men at the Columbia Theater, yesterday afternoon.

by C. C. Mitchell. The subject of his address was "Job, or the World's Ash Heap." The lecture was especially strong. Mr. Mitchell is an able orator and presented his subject in the most attractive way.—The State, Columbia, South Carolina.

I am willing to go on record that in my judgment his lecture "Job's Twin Brother," is a masterpiece. Keen in analysis, well-nigh faultless in diction, profound, yet simple; it appeals to all that is highest in human nature; and, without preaching, leaves a splendid moral and spiritual impression. May he live long and give this lecture to a mighty host of his fellow beings!

WILLIAM B. WOOD,
Cuts Ave. Free Baptist Church, Saco, Maine.

Our men thoroughly enjoyed your recent address on Job's Twin Brother. I congratulate you on your ability to interpret the story of this great Biblical character. I hope you will have frequent opportunity for presenting your message, which is at once interesting and profitable. With kind regards,

Sincerely,
L. E. HAWKINS, Gen. Sec.,
Providence, R. I.

To whom it May Concern:

Rev. C. C. Mitchell delivered his lecture on "Job's Twin Brother" in our Y. M. C. A. Sunday Course, October 22, before an audience of nearly five hundred men. Such an audience of men was a tribute to the speaker in his home city but there was a reason. Three years ago Rev. Mitchell gave the Ash Heap lecture and men remembered. This new lecture is given with all of the earnestness and eloquence of the first lecture. It is a message from a man with a vision. It grips men and that is the test.

G. H. PEABODY,
Pawtucket, R. I.

Mr. Eric Blind, who played the role of Petruchio with the Ben Greet Players at the Chautauqua Friday night is acknowledged by New York critics to be the finest Petruchio of the present day. While here, Mr. Blind was the guest of Mr. Roy O. Porter, on West Fourth street, both being members of Miss Anglin's Shakespearean Co., the past season.

A most interesting feature in connection with the Chautauqua was the children's work done by Miss Dittman. Miss Dittman is intensely interested in her work, both in her morning classes and her afternoon story hour. She sees a positive educational value in games which quicken sense perceptions, bring out latent qualities in some children and subdue the overforwardness of others, so that all may learn to cooperate.

The story-telling movement is sweeping over the country. People are seeing how much may be accomplished through the story. Miss Dittman feels that her work is not alone to instruct—to teach facts, but to reach deeply into the hidden nature of the child and to plant there joy and true standards of things.

Miss Vivian Dittman is a graduate of the North Western Missouri University and Columbia College of Expression, the children's entertainer and friend. She has a pet hobby. It is "Story Telling". In her quaint way she wins the heart of both parent and teacher.

FLIES FEAR ELECTRIC FANS

About the only thing a fly or mosquito is afraid of is an electric fan.

While it is not known why these little pests fear the whirling blades, it is certain, however, that an Electric Fan will keep flies off the windows and show cases, and from the candy, vegetables and other foodstuff exposed for sale, even though the breeze is not allowed to play over the places or goods to be protected. Merchants find the Electric Fan invaluable for keeping flies out of their stores. If a fan is placed near the main entrance to the store, so that the air current flows toward the doorway, very few flies will enter.

The fly, that deadliest of household pests, likes stagnant air and hot, stuffy rooms. It takes no comfort and lingers not where Electric Fans constantly and vigorously allow clean, pure, cool air to abundantly circulate in every nook and corner.

Remember our installment feature.
